

Senior Thesis Symposium

BYU Department of Anthropology

April 11th

BRMB 270

---

10:00-11:00

Kelsey Hybarger - The Quichua Paradox: A Look at Language Shift and Revitalization in Tena, Ecuador

Rebecca Holland - An Ideological Disconnect in the Ecuadorian Amazon: The Positive Consequences of Language Standardization

Kathi Beckett - Growing and Producing Amazonian Kallari Chocolate: Blending Community Driven Development Approaches in Creating a Sustainable Community Cooperative

Rachel Searle - The Kichwa Push Against the West: Resistance to Globalization through Language, Land, and Chicha

Discussant: Grant Madsen (Dept. of History)

Discussion (10 minutes)

11:00-12:00

Rachel LaForce - Creating and Maintaining a Sense of Place through Guernsey's Housing Control Law: Balancing Traditional Regulations and Contemporary Neoliberalism

Mary Cook - Shades of Collectivism: Case Studies of Hmong Polygyny and Implications for Marriage and Family Therapy

Crystal Carey - Fremont Burned Houses and Native American Death Rituals

Robert Bischoff - The Largest Fremont Burial: Wolf Village Structure 2

Discussant: Ed Stratford (Dept. of History)

Discussion (10 minutes)

Break 12:00-12:30

12:30-1:30

Kathryn Hickey - Hinckley Farm and Mounds Archaeological Burial Report

Darrik Cheney - The Ethnography of disparate trends: The globalization and Americanization of the new India

Myka Dunn - Ecological Effects of Five Regimes in Sierra Nevada, California

Christopher Lowry - Decorated in Death: Fremont Bone Beads

Discussant: Don Forsyth (Dept. of Anthropology)

Discussion (10 minutes)

1:30-2:20

Britten Harmon - What Can David Teach Goliath? What Large Museums Can Learn From Daughters of Utah Pioneer Micro-Museums

Jaclyn Brim and Heather White - A Typology of Fremont Worked Shards

Dustin Wurtz and Mary West - Legend of the Communal Structure: Plant Remains Found in the Floor Zones of Structures at Wolf Village

Mariana L.F. Castro - Mapping Value in the Archaeological Context

Discussant: Jim Allison (Dept. of Anthropology)

Discussion (10 minutes)

Break 2:20-2:30

2:30-3:30

Keara Moyle - Something Thicker Than Blood: Tribal Identity on the White Earth Indian Reservation

Elizabeth Schulte - Individual and Dividual Kinship: LDS Transracial Adoption and a Different Double Descent

Rachel Buckman - An Analysis of Faunal Assemblages in the Fremont Site Wolf Village

Trevor Pollmann - Pins and Nails: A Study of Burial Practices at the Blackfriary of Trim, Ireland

Ally Jones - A Stylistic Typology of Figurines at Wolf Village

Discussant: Jaime Bartlett (Dept. of Anthropology)

Discussion (10 minutes)